What is Safeguarding?

Safeguarding is about protecting children and adults from the risk of harm. It includes preventing those who are deemed unsuitable to work with them from doing so and being alert to and acting upon situations where they may be caused harm. The University has a zero-tolerance approach to any form of potentially harmful behaviour.

The role of the Designated Safeguarding Champions (DSCs) includes:

- + Acting as the first port of call for all safeguarding concerns within their department
- + Ensuring that University staff and students, and visitors to the University (where appropriate), are aware of the policies and procedures in place for safeguarding children and adults at risk and that these policies and procedures are followed
- + Signposting and providing support services for individuals who are named on a Safeguarding Report
- + Signposting support for staff who have reported a concern

As a University community, we consider the safety and well-being of our students and staff to be very important. We want to ensure as far as possible, that students can learn and achieve safely, free from abuse, harassment and harm. Safeguarding at the University of Bolton is everyone's responsibility.

Designated Safeguarding Champion (DSC)

We have a team of Designated Safeguarding Champions (DSC's) who you can contact if you have any questions or concerns about safeguarding such as:

- + Safeguarding concerns about the course or department you are studying with
- + Providing support services available if you are named on a safeguarding report
- + How to find out about the university's policies and procedures for safeguarding children and adults at risk
